Judge Jones, whose death made the vacancy, was a democrat, appointed to his position in 1961 by President Roosevelt, who was unable to find a republican big enough for the job. Judge Jones had been Governor of Alabama and made a creditable record.

Expected to Accept.

It is understood in the House of Repre sentatives that Representative Clayton be cheerfully and promptly complled with, and thus a great source of danger will accept the place.

The chairmanship of the judiciary com ittee will in all probability fall upon Representative Webb of North Carolina ranking member of the committee Representative Clayton, it will be remembered, withdrew from the senatorial race in his state at the request of the President at the time the campaign seemed to be a free-for-all affair between Mr. Clayton, Representative Underwood and Representative Hobson. At that time there were rumors that the President would appoint Mr. Clayton to a federal judgeship.

The appeal for more federal forces came from Gov. Ammons, and was the subject of discussion at the cabinet meeting. Secretary Garrison later went to the White House with maps of the coal region to demonstrate that the troops already there were not sufficient to guarantee peace and order. The President agreed and told the Secretary to send whatever troops he thought best.

Representative Keating of Colorado had told Mr. Garrison that three separate sets of troops were needed in Colorado, and under the present arrangement only two general localities were covered. He said that greater force was needed in the northern or Boulder district.

Laid out to meet the demand for large lots. thus affording spacious grounds.

Connected with the boulevards of the District of Columbia by a model road built by the United States government. Surrounded by permanently located improvements, as both clubs own their grounds and club-

Prices low enough to make a purchase there a good speculative proposition even though you do not wish to build.

Will you not let us show you? Our branch office at Chevy Chase Circle is open every weekday. Call there or at main office.

We have told you many times of the beauties of this section.
